

Opening and Reception

Open to the public

March 11, 2017 | 6-9 p.m.

Sparks Gallery, 530 Sixth Avenue,
San Diego Gaslamp District

No registration is required to attend.

Li Huai

Lecturer, Visual Arts Department
UC San Diego

BA, Beijing Film Academy
MFA, California Institute of the Arts

Li Huai's specialties include installation, painting, drawing, multi-media, and Chinese calligraphy. Her work deals with various issues related to East-West cultural interaction in an increasingly transnational age, including issues involving the Asian diaspora.

UC San Diego

ARTS AND HUMANITIES
Visual Arts

 sparks gallery

 21ST CENTURY CHINA CENTER
School of Global Policy & Strategy

Solo exhibition: Li Huai

"You Fascinate Me"

"Going places and seeing things is always stimulating, intimidating and rewarding – whenever one does it. It makes me aware of myself and forces me to learn from others on various meaningful, complicated and playful levels. The mechanisms of connection, disconnection, reflection and reconfirmation are intensely intimate and fascinating. Wandering around recharges my world and makes me want more." - Li Huai

