

21ST CENTURY CHINA PROGRAM

UC San Diego School of Global Policy & Strategy

Your Support Shapes a Shared Future

In the 21st Century, two nations will play pivotal roles in shaping a global future: China and the U.S. When you make a gift to support the 21st Century China Program at UC San Diego's School of Global Policy and Strategy (GPS), you will help influence this future as well.

Your gifts help build a world-class center of research and engagement where timely and in-depth analysis is used to address critical policy issues. The 21st Century China Program is where renowned scholars and leaders from both countries come together to find solutions to practical and diplomatic challenges as well as explore exciting opportunities for cooperation.

With your gift, you can:

- Advance research on contemporary China. From economic growth and cybersecurity to energy and political reform, our scholars conduct cutting-edge research on some of the most pressing issues facing China and U.S.-China relations.
- Forge partnerships and foster collaboration. Through the program, we bring acclaimed Chinese scholars and thought leaders to campus where they share their expertise with our students, faculty and the community.
- Prepare the next generation of experts. Educating and training the next generation of experts on China and U.S.-China relations is critical. Private support helps our students study in China and brings Chinese students and scholars here.
- Connect communities in China and the U.S. It is only by reaching out to our community through workshops, conferences, public lectures, youth programs and more that we deepen public knowledge and foster increased understanding between our countries.

“We are proud to support the 21st Century China Program because of the leading role its scholars play in enhancing our understanding of China and in shaping our engagement with the next global power.”

Gail and Jeffrey Donahue
Founding Donors of the 21st Century China Program
